The DuPage County (IL) Genealogical Society is an incorporated, not-for-profit organization. This Society is exclusively within the meaning of Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Founded in 1974, the purposes of the Society are:

To encourage the study of family history and genealogy.

To encourage the identification and preservation of records having genealogical value, especially those of DuPage County, Illinois, and to make those records available to members and to the general public.

To cooperate with other genealogical societies and libraries to further the field of family history and genealogy

Upcoming Meeting

General meetings of the DuPage County Genealogical Society for the 2023-2024 membership year will be a mix of in-person meetings and Zoom meetings. In-person meetings are held at the Wheaton Public Library, 225 N. Cross Street, Wheaton, IL in the lower-level conference room unless otherwise stated.

Wednesday, May 15, 2024 – 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm

Genealogy Software: How to Choose the Right Genealogical Software for You, presented by Jenny Warner

This will be a hybrid event, with an in-person presenter and both in-person and virtual participants.

Please register at www.dcgs.org to receive program reminders and updates. A Zoom Link and handout will be emailed to all registrants, and copies of the handout will be available at the event for those who choose to attend in person.

Dear Readers,

This issue of The Review features more DuPage County-related articles and a photo spread of our successful annual conference held this past March. I am grateful to Julie Bartimus and Jenny Warner for authoring their interesting articles. Several DCGS members took photos at the conference and sent them to me for inclusion in this issue of The Review.

I want to turn your attention to the letter, below, which all members received. After many years of holding the line at $20 for an individual membership, it was apparent that the Society could not continue to provide all of the state-of-the-art services that offer our membership better learning experiences and connections to Society events. Please continue to support us so we can schedule interesting programs and speakers, share our eNewsletters and The Review, as well as provide research assistance from our Corresponding Secretary to your research inquiries. Our Corresponding Secretary can be reached at requests@dcgs.org.

April 4, 2024

Dear Members:

Save on your 2024-2025 DCGS membership dues by paying before June 1st when dues will increase to $25.00.

As a review:

In March the DCGS Board notified society members of an increase of Individual dues to $25.00 as of June 1st.

This increase will help defray the society's increase in operating expenses due to the costs of the needed technology (ie: WildApricot, Zoom platform, etc.), rentals, speakers, etc. to operate the society and to stay in tune with surrounding societies. Technology is a valuable item as it enables DCGS to provide online programming such as Zoom and hybrid meetings, virtual genealogy classes, etc. not only to our members but to anyone across the country who wishes to participate in what DCGS offers.

Thank you for your continued support!

Sincerely,

The DCGS Board

- EXHIBIT: Built to Last: Celebrating DuPage County's Historical Architecture – May 1-31, 2024
  - The Built to Last: Celebrating DuPage County's Historical Architecture exhibit focuses on the historical architecture of DuPage County. Through this exhibit you can explore the unique architectural styles expressed over the decades and how they influenced DuPage. The array of buildings within the area now sits in harmony with their modern-day counterparts as the historic buildings continue to be preserved and celebrated. While most of these buildings are used for a new purpose, their unique designs have remained the same since the day they were erected.

Here is an example of typical patent. An illustration of the invention is first, followed by the specifications.

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.
ALOYSIUS E. HAPPEL, OF ELMHURST, ILLINOIS.
TROUSERS-PRESS.
No. 803,415. Specification of Letters Patent. Patented Oct. 31, 1905.
Application filed May 20, 1905. Serial No. 261,345.

To all whom it may concern:
Be it known that I, ALOYSIUS E. HAPPEL, a citizen of the United States, residing at Elmhurst, in the county of Dupage and State of Illinois, have made certain new and useful Improvements in Trousers Presses and Stretchers, of which the following is a specification.
My invention is in the nature of a trousers press and stretcher for pressing and creasing trousers.
It relates to that form of trousers press and stretcher in which the trousers are laid between two flat boards provided with fastening devices for clamping them together upon opposite sides of the trousers.
The object of my invention is to provide a form of trousers-press of this general character which shall be adapted to be placed under the bedclothes or mattress on which the person lies, so that the weight of the person in sleeping will supply the necessary pressure and warmth to neatly press and preserve the shape of the trousers.
With the above-object in view it consists in press-plates made of flexible and waterproof material, such as vulcanized fiber or oil-board, combined with a special form of fastening which will not rust and soil the bedclothes or trousers nor become tangled in nor tear the clothes nor have such projection as to make lying on the same uncomfortable.
Figure 1 is an outside view with the press closed. Figure 2 is an inside view with the press open, the position of the trousers between the same being indicated in dotted lines; and Figure 3 is a transverse section on line 3 3 of Fig. 2 on a somewhat larger scale.
In the drawings, A A' represent the two press-plates, which are made of very thin, tough, flexible, and waterproof material, such as sheets of vulcanized fiber or oil-board. One of the plates A' has riveted to it on the back side along its edges a series of flat leather straps a, in the ends of which are seated cup-shaped sockets b. The other section A of the plate has riveted in it spring-bulbs c, which are adapted to be received in the cup-shaped sockets b when the latter are pressed down upon the same, after the manner of the well-known glove-fastener. I prefer this form of fastening because it does not project from the plates far enough to make lying on the same uncomfortable and for the further reason that this fastening is overlaid by the strap, so that the fastening cannot catch in and tear either the bedclothing or the trousers. Furthermore, there is a special correlation between the thin flexible and tough plates and these fastenings in that the fastenings can be directly riveted in these plates and lie for the most in the plane of the same, which again helps to avoid undue projection of the fastenings and yet makes a very strong anchorage.
In inserting the trousers the straps on one side only are opened and the upper plate folded back, as in Fig. 2, the straps along the other edge acting as hinges. The trousers are then smoothly laid in between the plates and the straps fastened down to pinch and hold the plates together. The plates, it will be seen, are large enough to completely inclose the waist as well as the legs of the trousers. The trousers-press containing the trousers is then laid under the mattress or under a quilt above the mattress in position to be lain upon by the occupant of the bed, and while the individual sleeps the weight of his body presses his trousers for next day. When the trousers are thus in press, the warmth and natural moisture of the air in bed furnishes a sufficient softening and bending of the thin plates to make them conform in a measure to the body, relieving all discomfort, and at the same time supplies to the trousers something of the effect of the sponging and heating of the trousers by the tailor's pressing-iron, but without producing any shiny effect, as there is no rubbing action or glossing of the fiber. There are, furthermore, no loose or detachable parts in my device.
I am aware that press-plates of rigid boards are old and that the fastenings shown have also been used heretofore for other uses; but there is a special correlation between the material of the press-plates and these fastenings which adapts my device to the new use described.
Having thus described my invention, what I claim as new, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—
1. A trousers press and stretcher consisting of two press-plates made of thin waterproof

Use the following instructions to find family members in the Google Patent database.

Background

Google created a search engine for locating United States' patents, as well as patents registered around the world. It was designed for use by would-be inventors, patent attorneys and others to help them find registered patents more efficiently. Inventors could learn if their idea was brand new or if there was already a patent registered for their idea.

There are over 120 million patent publications from 100+ patent offices around the world. Also included are technical documents and books indexed in Google Scholar and Google Books, as well as documents from the Prior Art Archive. There is a wealth of information to be found. Twenty-two countries are represented in the database. You can see the full list of countries at:

Researchers can search for, and then read, the full text of a patentee's documentation. It contains the name of the inventor, drawings of their idea and a detailed description of its design and purpose. The entire file can be downloaded as a PDF file to a researcher's computer for free!

A WikiTree Challenge: DuPage County Black Americans in the 1880 Census

By Julie L. Bartimus

If you are done researching your own family (unlikely) or need a break, check out the ever-evolving WikiTree challenges. A current project is the US Black Heritage 1880 Project.

US Black Heritage 1880 Project Profile

https://www.wikitree.com/wiki/Space:US\_Black\_Heritage\_1880\_Project

Goal: To create a profile for every Black (or Mulatto) American enumerated on the 1880 US federal census.

Total profiles needed: 6,580,793

Why the 1880 census? This is the first census record where household relationships are spelled out. It is also close enough to the time of slavery to help us link enslaved ancestors to descendants. Many formerly enslaved ancestors would still be alive.

The project page has guidelines for participating in the challenge and links to the different state and county tracking sheets.

“For the 1880 census, enumerators asked residents questions across several categories (including color). ... Enumerators were to mark "W" for White, "B" for Black, "Mu" for Mulatto, "C" for Chinese [a category which included all east Asians], of "I" for American Indian.”<sup>2</sup>

Enumerators were instructed, “Be particularly careful in reporting the class mulatto. The word is here generic, and includes quadroons, octoroons, and all persons having any perceptible trace of African blood.”<sup>3</sup>

When using the term black or mulatto in this article, we are using the terms provided by the interviewees and reported by the enumerator. When we use the term Black American, we are referring to Americans reported as black or mulatto in the 1880 Census.

The project estimates 46,368 Black Americans were enumerated in Illinois in 1880 and 60 in DuPage County. FamilySearch shows 33 DuPage Co. residents listed with “black” as their race and 23 with “mulatto.” In 1880, Black Americans made up 13.1% of the country's population, 1.5% of the Illinois population, and less than 1% of the population of DuPage County.<sup>4</sup>

Of 56 people listed as Black Americans in DuPage, 38% were enumerated in Hinsdale, 18% in Elmhurst, and 18% in Lisle.

The ages for the Black Americans in DuPage ranged from 73 to less than 1 year, with an average age of 27. They were living in 19 different households, 10 with black heads of household and 9 with white heads of household.

Table Ia. Population of the United States by States and Territories, p3.

65% of the Black Americans in DuPage County over the age of 10 were listed with an occupation. 12 were laborers, 10 servants, 3 farmers, 2 laundresses, and 1 hotel porter. All 3 of the farmers and 5 of the laborers were also the head of their household. While the 1880 Census doesn't indicate whether the head of household owned or rented their property, the report by the US Census Bureau indicated that the American farmer is, at least in a vast proportion of instances, the owner of the land he cultivates.<sup>5</sup>

The Black Americans enumerated in the 1880 Census for DuPage County are profiled below, grouped by household.

Thomas Baker, head of household, was born about 1841 in Alabama. He was a farmer in Lisle. His father was born in Alabama. His mother was born in Africa.<sup>7</sup>

His wife, Lizzie, was born about 1853 in Virginia. Her parents were both born in Virginia. Thomas and Lizzie likely married before 1875.

James, Thomas' son, was born about 1875, in Illinois.

Rosa, Thomas' daughter, was born about 1876, in Illinois.

Nellie, Thomas' daughter, was born about 1878, in Illinois.

Frank, Thomas' son, was born about 1879, in Illinois.

Also, living in the household is Rosette Hide/Ride, born about 1810 in Virginia, Thomas' widowed mother-in-law, probably Lizzie's mother. Rosette's parents were both born in Virginia.

Thomas, his wife, and their children are listed as black in the 1880 Census.

I. L. Blackburn Household<sup>8</sup>

I.L. Blackburn was born about 1817 in Kentucky. In 1880, he was a farmer in the Village of Downers Grove.

His parents were born in Kentucky<sup>9</sup>

His daughter, Mary C., was born about 1851 in Kentucky and is listed as "keeping house".

I.L. and Mary C. are listed as mulatto.

Peter Blakely Household<sup>10</sup>

Peter Blakely was born about 1848 in South Carolina. In 1880, he was a farmer in Lisle Township. His parents were born in South Carolina.<sup>11</sup>

Hattie, his wife, was born about 1859 in Missouri. Her parents were born in Missouri.

May, his daughter, was born in November 1879 in Illinois.

Peter, Hattie, and May are listed as black.

John Choistie Household

John Choistie was 68, married, white, and a farmer. He and his parents were born in Scotland. In 1880, he was head of household in Milton. Also in the household were his wife, three sons, a stepdaughter, a boarder, three laborers, and one servant.<sup>12</sup>

Two of the laborers were black:

* Julius Phillipps, black, age 35, laborer, born in Texas. His parents were also born in Texas.<sup>13</sup>

* John Lent, black, age 25, laborer, born in Virginia. His parents were also born in Virginia.<sup>14</sup>

George Critendon Household<sup>15</sup>

George Critendon was born about 1823 in Kentucky. In 1880, he was a laborer, living in Hinsdale. The birthplaces of his parents were not known. His race is listed as black.<sup>16</sup>

Amanda, his wife, was born about 1840 in Pennsylvania. Her father was born in Maryland and her mother was born in Pennsylvania. She is listed as mulatto.

Sarah E., his daughter, was born about 1861 in Pennsylvania. She is listed as mulatto.

At the writing of this article, the DuPage County list for the 1880 Project is almost finished. We are waiting for the two profiles of Arthur Thomas to be merged before adding profiles for his children. If you like the idea of the USBH 1880 Project, consider working on profiles for one of our neighboring counties.

Will County has 682 black or mulatto Americans enumerated in 1880. While Will County has been added to the tracking sheet, at the writing of this article only 57 profiles have been created.

So far, the profiles for Cook, Kendall, and Kane have not been checked nor have new profiles been added.

- Cook County, not surprisingly, has almost 7000 black or mulatto Americans enumerated. Due to this number, entries are split into three sheets: A-G surnames, H-O surnames, and P-Z surnames.
- Kendall has 75 black or mulatto Americans.
- Kane has 550 black or mulatto Americans.

Or you can choose another state or county that has a connection to your ancestry. I may work on the Ogle County, Illinois entries next because of the connection to my paternal line.

In WikiTree, follow #challenges in G2G to see the latest posts about project challenges.

Spotlight on Town, Village or City in DuPage County: Village of Woodridge

by Jenny Warner

The village of Woodridge is located 23 miles SW of Chicago in DuPage County. Until 1833 the native American maintained a strong presence in the area. After the Black Hawk War the Native American's were forced out of Illinois. During the time the Native Americans were here, the first log cabin was built by Pomeroy Goodrich. Goodrich was a farmer from Vermont. The first farm in the area was established by William Greene from New York. The location of the farm was at the corner of Hobson and Greene Roads. Also, during that time many Germans migrated into the region, and remained a farming community for the next century. Woodridge was one of a few towns untouched by the railroad. The Village of Woodridge was incorporated with only 500 people on the 24th of August 1959. Land was being purchased for development. The village received their name from a section of wooded areas about a steep hillside that overlooks the DuPage River. Albert Kaufman was the housing developer who was responsible for the creation of the Village of Woodridge and most of the homes and businesses were constructed after the 1950's.

Woodridge borders the following communities Naperville to the West, Downers Grove to the NE, Darien to East, Lemont to the South, Bolingbrook to the SW and Lisle to NW. In the 2022 census, with a population of 33, 587, the village had a total of 9.79 square miles, 9.37 in land and .16 in water. Woodridge has two major interstates that run through the village Veterans Memorial Highway and I55. The closest railroad is Burlington Northern Santa Fe. Residents go to Downers Grove, Lisle or Naperville to pick up a train.

The village government is comprised of a village mayor and a board of directors who are all elected. The village has a full-service police department with 51 officers. The fire department districts were drawn before the village was incorporated and lie within the jurisdiction of 3 fire departments.

Woodridge is covered by Lisle Woodridge, Darien Woodridge and Lemont Fire Departments. Lisle-Woodridge is rated IS0-1 by the insurance office. District 68 is the elementary school district for Woodridge. The school district has 6 elementary schools and 1 junior high. The 6 schools were built between 1961-1976. After 1976, Downers Grove South High School started to accommodate Woodridge Students. After children graduate most students either attended Downers Grove North or Downers Grove South High Schools. There are some students that attend Lemont High School or Naperville Schools.

In 1965, the first shopping center opened in Woodridge. In 1976, the voters approved the construction of a public library. In 1969, the voters wanted to protect land and started the Park District. In 2007, the Village of Woodridge was ranked no 61 on 100 best places to live in the Money magazine. Home Run Inn pizzeria chain calls Woodridge home. Pabst Brewing Co called Woodridge home from 2006-2011. Wilton Industries called Woodridge home started in 1977 until early 2020's.

DCGS 46th Annual Conference

By Carole Magnuson

Our 46th conference was, again, held at the Northern Illinois University's Naperville campus on March 9, 2024. It was another successful conference with an increase in attendance over last year's conference. We like that! It means our attendees realize the benefit of an in-person conference and the word is getting out that it is a nice experience. We had three new vendors join us this year – Tinley-Moraine Genealogists, Norwegian American Genealogical Center & Naeseth Library, and Perrin Wheaton Chapter NSDAR.

We thank all who responded to the after-conference survey and look forward to applying your feedback to future conferences. The Conference Committee is busy working on next year's event and invites you to join us as we start the planning process. You can contact our webmaster at webcoordinator@dcgs.org or me at revieweditor@dcgs.org if you are interested in attending our committee meetings. We have one or two in-person meetings at the Wheaton Public Library, but primarily meet virtually so even our out-of-state members can participate. The committee is always looking for fresh ideas and support. Thank you!

Genealogist's Code of Ethics.

In order to protect the integrity of public records and library books, I am ethically bound and hereby agree that:

- 1) I will treat with the greatest care and respect all public records and library books that may be made available to me.
- 2) I will speak with courtesy to all employees of a vital records office, or of a public library, when requesting to see any vital record or library book, and when finished with such record or book I shall express my thanks to the person attending to my request.
- 3) I will not tear, erase, mark, or remove any public record or library book, and will refrain from mutilating, defacing, or otherwise destroying any part of such record or book.
- 4) When I have finished viewing any public record or library book I will return it to the proper or designated place.
